

ANN HAWKSLEY

Ann obtained BA Hons. at Maidstone Collage of Art in 1973.

She spent a few years teaching art in Leeds before becoming a board artist in London. In 1984 she became a full time portrait painter but over the years has diversified into other areas of painting whilst still working to commission.

The figure still features in Ann's work and she considers herself an avid people watcher. She paints entirely in oils and favourite subjects include families crabbing amongst rock pools, railway station concourses, al fresco café scenes and dog walkers by the Thames.

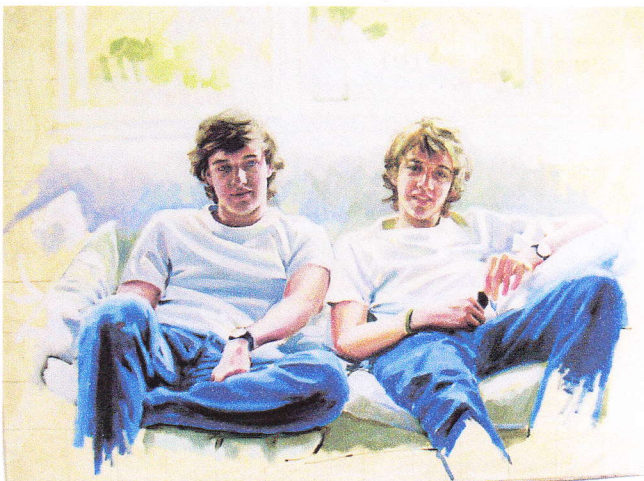

She often uses her own photographs as reference for her work.
